Travel around South Lebanon to meet Syrian refugees and to make a taxonomy of ruins.

After the meeting with the Syrian refugees, we decided to create projects that respond to three necessities : the act of habiting, the act of expression and the act of working.

All the projects are located in Tyr, a city in South Lebanon. We have picked one ruin for each type that we have put in the taxonomy. We decided to use the ruins of war to make the material of the projects. The three other types are :

Archeologic ruins for the act of expression Project : public spaces

Ruin of abandonment for the act of working Project : textile art crafts

Ruins of construction :
unfinished buildings for the act of habiting
Project : apartment
